

World Happenings In Pictures

"KICK TO FOUR THE FIELD"—Looks like they are picking that boy's young these days at England's Epsom track. Actually, little Eric Lee, is just putting on an act while enjoying the fun of Derby day.

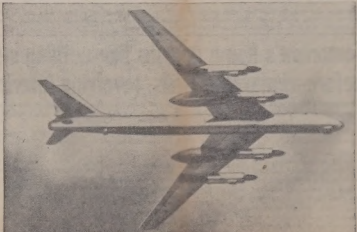

WHERE'S MAMA'S POCKET?—"Victoria," the bewildered kangaroo seems to ask. The one-year-old Melbourne, Australia, animal is part of the campaign being undertaken by the United States to raise funds for its Olympic team. The kangaroo was welcomed aboard a U.S. Coast Guard cutter by Mate Bill Class Tom Barnard.

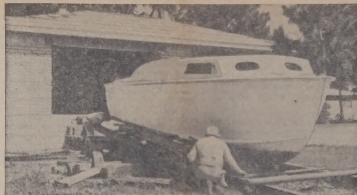

CHILD RESTS AFTER MOUNTAIN ORDEAL—Seven-year-old Marsh Dixon, of Brownburg, Ind., rests at home after being lost 19 hours in the mountains west of Denver. She was scratched by trees, bruised and very hungry but otherwise unharmed. She is comforted by her mother.

MOVING WORKERS—The departure of 15 recruits from Le Havre to fight in Algeria was delayed more than an hour by rising western Protestants joining clubs and used tear-gas bombs to quell the demonstration, in which more than 2,000 persons took part. In the melee, several French cars were unoccupied and many windows broken, but there were no serious injuries. The latest in a series that have occurred in France in recent months, was started on orders of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor, the "Committee for Peace" and the "Committee of the Families of the Front." The rising broke out at 8:40 a.m. The materials finally left on a train for Paris at 9:50. French headquarters in Algeria said that operations along the Moroccan frontier west of Oran have knocked more than 10 rebels out of action in the last three days. Three divisions were participating in a hammer-and-sword type of operation in the area.

SOVIET 'BEAR-LIKE BADGER'—Hybrid of the air is this four-engine, turboprop bomber, pride of the Soviet air force. It bears a striking resemblance to another Russian bomber, the "Blender," and its evolving style gives it a striking resemblance to United States' intercontinental bomber, the B-59. This very clear view of the ship was first published in June issue of Naval Aviation News.

NO BOOBARD, THIS!—It was done on purpose. A switch on the chain "I forgot about the size of the door" theme, the 26-foot craft was built hands, the newly completed house with intent afterthought. Wining hands help start the creation of Bob Brown, of St. Petersburg, Fla., on her way to water. Brown thoughtfully left installation of his picture window with "door" "door" of his ship.

CLASSY GAS SAVER—World motorcycle racing champion K. P. Mueller holds up a canister with a little more than a quart of gasoline—the amount he needs for each test run of the new, streamlined German NSU racer. That small amount of fuel took the 100-kilometer (about 62 miles) at a speed of 100 kilometers per hour in an initial test. Top speed by Mueller in the "wing chair" was about 60 miles per hour. Using the special run, Mueller was using about 10 on his tank in the machine.

ALMONT WADE IS—Big Jim Gentry, home-hitting first baseman of the Fort Worth Club of the Texas League, who was expected to replace Rocky Colavito on the Texas team, but the word from Brooklyn turned the old pitcher "Wade" into "Wade".

ABOUT 400 pounds of blood plasma—Some superstitious Chinese believe that a cow's blood plasma can save lives that eating of dog's flesh gives courage.

THEY JUST MARCH AWAY—Resplendent in tri-corner hats and dark-colored uniforms, Chelsea Pensioners march with a martinet belying their average age of 72. The event was the annual Founder's Day parade at the Royal Hospital in Chelsea, England. Each Pensioner wears an oak leaf for the collection traditionally held on the birthday of Charles II, founder of the old soldiers' hospital.

CHORELY CHARLENE AND HER CHIMP—Open and correct soprano Charlene Chappin does it a little situation, as her pet monkey, Purrito, clatters about her neck. The singer's small son of just 4, her Purrito, 3 1/2, bears include a sublimity, monkey, cherish, being and an artist.

NEWLYWEIDS TO BRAVE OCEAN—Greek portrait painter Steve Gregoriou and his bride, the former Mary Susan Perry of Youghstown, N.Y., pose aboard their 26-foot long, single-masted sailboat before sailing down the Hudson River enroute to Adams, Green, Java and his bride teamed up last summer to win the annual Hudson River Yacht Racing Association championship. They hope to make the 4,000-mile trip in about 30 days.

ONE DAY OF FREEDOM—Looking down from their lofty perch at the crowd of almost 4,000 persons, promoters of the Leon, Mexico, Jail who have behaved well during the week enjoy their own day period of freedom on the roof of the jail. All prisoners who have managed to escape military confinement, spend the day looking down on the street with military, army military with attention-getting gear, such as a billowing skirt or a camera, is in for a heritage of good comment.

